INSIDE FIGURES ON BOOKMAKING.

Public Lost $25,000,000 in Bets at New York and Saratoga Race Courses This Season.

HEAVIEST PLAY ON RECORD.

Total Amount Wagered at Metropolitan Tracks This Year Is Estimated at $35,000,000-Price of Stools in Betting Rings Advances.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

New York, Nov. 5.-A prominent mem-ber of the Metropolitan Turf Association, whose acquaintance with the internal working of the Bookmakers' Association ends an authoritative color to his assertions, declared yesterday that $35,000,000 was wagered upon the New York tracks and the Saratoga race course during the season just drawing to a close. This estimate inground numbers represented the result of a careful and an expert approxnation of the business done by the individual "meets" in the year,

At a business meeting of the organization on Monday night at the Twenty-sixth street headquarters, the rank and file of embership reported the most successful season of many years. Since then e recapitulation and a retrospect of the long and exciting months left behind them are being indulged in by many big bookles. The volume of the betting ring market for the 245 racing days exceeds the figures of 1902 by over $8,000,000.

The public has again sustained the worst of the game, as nearly every one of the first flight of the layers is able to show a handsome balance on the right side of the ledger. From the standpoint of the bookmaker the current season has been the most gratifying of any since the Belmont regime came into power upon the metropolitar turf.

Of the vest amount of money wagered ment regime came into power upon the metropolitar turf.

Of the vest amount of money wagered at Morris Park, Sheepshead Bay, Sarataga, Gravesend, Januica, Brighton Beach and Aqueduct since the day Gunfire won the Metropolitan Handicap, the sleek and opulent gentlemen of the chalk and rubber have retained about $25,000,000. In other words, that much money was put into the ring by the public and lost. The books, on the other hand, gave a very considerable part of this huge pile to the several associations for the privilege of laying odds and raking in the bettors' menery.

That the art of making book is one of this most remunerative and softest propositions in the country to-day is shown by the fact that only yesterday an offer of $5.000 for a sent in the big line in the Metropolitan betting ring was refused. By next spring $5.000 will not purchase the privilege of bolding down a high stool in the New York betting rings. The last sale of a membership seat in the Metropolitan Turf Association was at $4.500.

"TIGERS" READY FOR GAME. Columbia Team Will Arrive in St. Louis To-Day-Hamilton's Nose Broken.

PEPUBLIC SPECIAL Columbia, Mo., Nov. 5 .- The Tigers went into a fierce scrimmage to-night with more vigor than they have shown in midweel practice. The team realizes that the game with Washington University Saturday will not be a walkaway, as the Washington not be a walkaway, as the Washington hunch are fast and put up a hard game. While they played a tle game with Rolla last Saturday, the team is not a weak one, because the Rolla team is known to lave improved since Missouri drubbed them—40 to 0. The rooters are confident of victory, but the coaches and players do not make any statements as to what the result will be.

The work of the 'varsity was good and Coach McLean expressed himself as satisfied with the showing made by the 'varsity line and backs. The linemen, Landon in particular, did good work in stopping the rushes of the scrub team. Hamilton, who has been showing in well at end and half back, had his nose broken in some preliminary practice and was not able to get into the scrimmage. The injury will not lay him up very long, however. Bayse, who has been putting up a good game at half back on the scrubs, also got a bump on the head that put him cut for the time being. Coons has been playing center on the scrubs this week and it is thought by some that McLean bitends to use him in the line part of the time.

SCORE IS SIX TO NOTHING. ONLY FOOTBALL SUBSTITUTES

Contest Exciting From Start to the End and Characterized by Plucky Fight on Both Sides.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 5.-St. Louis Uniersity defeated Illinois College in the football game at West Side Park to-day by the score of 6 to 0, but the score does rot tell the story of the game.

The visitors outweighed the home team six pounds to the man. The touchdown was made near the close of the first half. During the second half the ball was entirely in the visitors' territory, and Illi-nois was within eight yards of the visitors' goal when they lost the ball on downs.

The game was characterized by straight football. St. Louis made most of her gains by end runs, while the Illinois team gains by end runs, while the Illinois team r ade their advances through the line. Brennan, right half, played the star game for the visitors, making their only touchdown and repeatedly carrying the ball for gains averaging five to ten yards. Bennett, right half, and Cupples, full back, also proved good ground-gainers.

For Illinois, Harmon, Eilers and Owen made most of the gains and Brockhouse and Conover made several good tackles. It was a good game for the spectators, as each side was compelled to kick repeatedly to save losing the ball on downs. There was considerable wrangling over the decisions of the officials, and the play at times was rough.

these was rough.

Both teams put up a plucky fight and during the two halves, which were of twenty-five minutes each, only one man left the game. No long runs were made by either side, and the St. Louis touchdown was made by siow, steady gains down the middle of the field.

BILLIARDS.

Staley 50, Noland 37. Staley defeated Noland in the three-cushion handicap tournament game at the Grand last night after a very pretty ex-hibition of cue work. Noland's playing of late has not been as good as his previous work and he showed bad form at times when put in a bad position for a shot. The score:

BADER AND RICKER.

Players Accused of Playing

Objection Made Chiefly as a Matter of Precaution, as One of the Boys Has Left School.

Smith Academy has protested Bader and Ricker, two of High School's feetball players, for alleged professionalism. The gist of Smith's charges was not made public last night, but it stated upon good authority that Bader and Ricker are charged with playing baseball for a financial consideration. Ricker was the pitcher and Bader the shortstop of High's champsionship baseball team last summer. Both boys are much above the general school average in baseball skill. It is said that after leav-ing school the boys played with semiprofessional teams around St. Louis.

The protest is made chiefly as a matter of precaution. Both boys have played lit-tle football, and Ricker has left school al-together. They were substitute full backs, nothing more.

RESPECT FOR ST. LOUIS U. St. Louis University's victory over Illinois College will give that team quite a boost in local respect. The Illinois fellows are always a hefty lot. As the amatows are always a hefty lot. As the amateur line has not been too strictly drawn, the team can always boast a seasoned lot of husky players. Some years ago the Illinois were wont to come to St. Louis and clean up the old Pastime giants, the Cabannes, Holtmans, Munsons, Forbeses, Scullins and other cracks in eary style. If the Illinois College has as big boys now as the had then the victory of St. Louis University must be taken as a vice. now as she had then the victory of St. Louis University must be taken as a very creditable one.

BUSY DAYS AT WASHINGTON. Coach Boynton and Athletic Director Wayne Smith of Washington had another busy day with their charges yesterday, and if their team makes a good showing against the M. S. U. eleven in the big game to-morrow this pair will deserve the thanks of all the well-wishers of the W. U. eleven.

U. eleven.

Guard Lucky is still improving in his work and should prove a very valuable man against the line-shattering M.S. U.

The youngsters of the scrub and junior teams of Washington who tackle him felt much like the giant bear who in a moment of mental aberration tackled a flying lo-comotive.

much like the giant bear who in a moment of mental aberration tackied a flying locomotive.

His powerful arms and tremendous legs sweep him through an opposing line like a moose through a snowdrift.

When he hits a man that man has a very vague idea of how it feels to be the center of attraction at an Irish fair. In Saturday's game he will very likely be depended upon to a large extent to stop the "Tigers" ground gainers, and this he should certainly do every time he crashes against one of them.

Tolson is also having busy days. His kicking is improving and if he gets the proper support the chances are he will land at least one goal from the field.

BISCHOEFF WORKS HARD.

Hischoff is another player who is work-

Bischoff is another player who is working hard. He is a very conscientious young man and one who seldom believes in shirking. In every scrimmage he is in the midst of the play. His ability to gain ground is well known to local football goers.

Heuman, who started the season packing

Heuman, who started the season packing around too much tissue, is rapidly rounding to the proper form. He is yet a trifle reavy, but his flesh is solid and handicaps him very little in the matter of speed.

While the St. Louis University team was the guest of Illinois College at Jacksonville yesterday, the Smith Academy team had practically a free field at Sportsman's Park for their maneuvers. They availed themselves of the opportunity by going through a very severe work out. Jimmy Wear, who was the pride of Yale several years ago, had the boys catching the oval from well-placed kicks. Early in the practice the youngsters showed a tendency to fumile, but Wear had them doing nicely before he allowed them to leave the field.

WRAPE PROMISES WELL.

WRAPE PROMISES WELL. A youngster by the name of Wrape who has as yet falled to make the team, showed up much better than some of the regulars. He catches the ball clean and darts through the line with his shock of red hair hanging down and serving as a danger signal to overmeek tackles. Big Stannard of Smith, whom it is rumored is booked for a berth with one of the big Eastern elevens, also worked well. His tremendous strength gives him an immense advantage against the light youths who find great pleasure in bucking up against this Big glant, who is a living tribute to open-door athletics.

This team to-morrow will tackle the dentist of the Marion-Sims College and on form should easily dispose of them. The latter eleven do not appear to have the grit and stamina that characterizes the men under Wear and McMillan.

Wear, although he has not been active in any of the local elevens recently, is one of the best conditioned men on the field. His face is tanned from his devotion to open-door sport, and his shoulders and chest development is marvelous for a mariof his inches. He is as hard as nails, and some of the youngsters who are yearning for fame on the gridforn would do well to emulate this strenuous young man. red hair hanging down and serving as a

WILL FINE MILLIONAIRE BELL. Joekey Club Means to Punish Turfman for Assaulting Handicapper.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL, New York, Nov. 5.—The stewards of the Jockey Club will likely impose a fine of $500 upon L. V. Bell, the millionaire turfman, for his attack upon an official of the Jockey Club, Handicapper Vosburgh formally lodged charges against the former owner of Hermis last night, complaining of a "gross and vulgar assault within the precincts of the Queens County Jockey Club."

Late in the day the fact that Vosburgh had not a few supporters among the trainers and officials came as a surprise. To-day it looks as if the Jockey Club stewards have a pretty kettle of fish to fry in settling the trouble between Bell and the official handicapper. Bell has steadfastly declared his intention of effecting what he is pleased to term a "reform" by having a Board of Handicappers appointed instead of leaving the department in the "czarlike" convol of one man. However, it is learned from a reliable source that the stewards will fine Bell 500 for his breach of the rules, as they did Dave Gideon and Jack Joyner when these two worthles fell foul of one another at Gravesend during the summer of 1902. Late in the day the fact that Vosburgh to shake the dust of Gotham from his patient leathers and hie himself to St. Louis, there to open a $40,000 cafe.

This will not be Corbett's first experience in the cafe business. His place on Broadway a couple of years ago was always frequented by the better element of the sporting fraternity. When seen last night Corbett admitted that there is a plan on foot to open up a grand show place. He said that his brother Tom is now arranging matters for him, and that he expects to make his permanent quarters in St. Louis after December.

SHAVING WITHOUT RAZORS; AND LATHER DOES THE WORK?

New York, No. 4-Safety razors, other razors and barber shops will shortly be driven out of business-maybe. A formula has been discovered that will result, when properly mixed, in a paste which will take the hair off the face just as thoroughly as any razor, according to Doctor W. E. Dreyfus, chief • chemist of the Department of Public Charities and Bellevue Hospital.

Here is the formula: Barri sulphidi, 25 parts; saponis pulvis, 5 parts; tolci eneti pulvis, 35 parts; tritici farinae, 35 parts; bensaldchydi, quarter solution. 💠 The directions for using are very simple. The paste is to be spread thinly on the surface from which the hair is to be removed, and is to be left on for a period of two minutes. Then it is to be washed off, and, according to reports. • the hair will come with it, leaving the face as smooth as if the barber had • been "twice over." No injury will result to the complexion, says Doctor Dreyfus. ◆

This formula is one of over 230 in the doctor's formulary for this year. ◆ which he has just completed. The formulary is issued every year and is used as lacktriangle a basis for the National Formulary, which is issued by the American Pharmaceutical Association. There are several unique formulae in this year's issue, lacktriangle♦ among them a remedy for delirium tremens and a disinfectant for telephone ♦

OPENING BALL AT UNION CLUB

First Event of Season Well Attended by South Side Belies and Beaux.

The Union Club's social season was forally opened last night with a ball. About 400 members and guests were present, all of whom enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Since the closing event of last season many improvements have been added to the South Side clubhouse, which met with The gas was ignited and Anweiler, unable general approval on the part of the womon attendants last night. The club has been refurnished and redecorated throughout, which added to the splendor of last night's affair. A Dutch room, one of the most pretentious innovations, was voted "swell," and the furniture it contained, which is of the art craft style, came in for much admiration from the fair sex.

Union Ciub's ballroom, always a most inviting place, and ever tastefully decorated for social affairs, looked brighter and cheerier than ever last night in its new dress of tinted colors. Plain strips of evergreens constituted the fioral adornment, which blended well with the light color effects of the club's repainted interior.

The grand murch started shortly after 9 o'clock, and from then until midnight the orchestra, which was hidden behind an embankment of plants on the stage of the ballroom, played selections from the latest popular operatic airs.

At midnight a banquet was spread in the

TWO WORKMEN BURNED IN GAS PLANT EXPLOSION.

Sixteen-Inch Pipe Parts at Laclede Works, and One of the Injured Men Jumps in Tank of Water.

In an explosion at the Laclede Gas Company's plant, at Second and Convent streets, George Anweller, a gasmaker, of No. 1819 Warren street, and John Erwin, a foreman, were seriously burned at 12:45 yesterday afternoon.

A 16-inch gas main had parted at a joint and a large quantity of gas had escaped to escape, was burned about the head, arms and body. The intense pain caused by the burns made him almost frantic, and he spreng into a vat of cold water. The other workmen pulled him out, and as soon as they saw the seriousness of his burns, rang for an ambulance, Erwin was farther from the leaking pipe, but was burned about the face and neck. Both men were taken to the City Hospital.

The force of the explosion broke the windows on the west side of the building and the skylights. The damage to the machinery is very light, nothing being injured except the pipe which was leaking. The superintendent was unable to account for the accident. Two sections of the cast-iron pipe had apparently contracted, leaving an opening for the gas to

WILSON SAYS BOLL WEEVIL CANNOT BE EXTERMINATED.

Secretary of Agriculture Declares That Pest Is Sure to Spread From Texas Over Country.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 5.—More than 500 dele-gates and about 2,000 lay visitors were present at the opening session of the Na-tional Boll Weevil and Cotton Convention

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson delivered the principal address of the day. He stated that he had come to Texas more than a week ago to look into the cotton situation. He did not hesitate to call attention to the defective methods of Texas farming, as he had observed them, and to declare that under them all the money in the United States Tressury could not ex-terminate the boil weevil pest. He advocated better cultural methods-particularly deep plowing.

The United States Government, Secre-

The United States Government, Secretary Wilson said, had spent this year nore than $100,000 in Texas to help the samers. He declared that the boll-weevil pest cannot be exterminated.

"You are here to-day," he said, "in the interest of the cotton crop of the United States. As far as my observation and information go, we cannot exterminate the boll-weevil pest. And you cannot keep it this side of the Sabited and the Mississippi rivers, either. It is going across."

The important work will be on to-morrow.

Loss in One County $1,000,000.

Loss in One County $1,000,000.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Washington, Nov. 5.—Representative
George Burgess of Gonzales, Tex., has arrived in the city. He said this evening:

"My own county of Gonzales has lost this year, at a reasonable estimate, not less than $1,000,000 by the devastating work of the boll wesvil. The loss to the cotton planters of my entire district may reach $0,000,00, a trem-udoug manetary affliction for one locality.

"But in spite of this our people are in good spirits, for, while their principal product has been cut short, they made heavy crops of corn and the yield of rice has been splendid, bringing in a revenue that partly compensates the planters for the destruction of their cotton."
